The Visiting Nurse Association (VNA) is the only non-profit home care agency in Indian River County providing a continuum of care for its patients. The VNA's goal is to provide patients with the highest quality of care regardless of their ability to pay. They provide excellent patient and family care with integrity, compassion, knowledge, and love.

When it's not possible to cure a severe illness, VNA Hospice provides pain and symptom management, counseling, day-to-day personal care, and volunteer support to focus on living with quality of life. They can provide care at the patient's home, assisted living facility, skilled nursing facilities, and even in their own VNA Hospice House for patients whose symptoms cannot be managed at home.

The VNA offers community health screenings, education, and a mobile health clinic. Through the generous support of the Indian River County Hospital District and the John's Island Foundation, the VNA Mobile Health Clinic provides affordable healthcare to treat infants through seniors. This mobile clinic diagnoses illnesses, prescribes treatments and medications, and conducts school and sports physicals for IRC students.

The core principle of providing care to all who need it within the community remains at the heart of the VNA's mission.

Many of us at SpirePoint Private Client have personally experienced the stress of caring for a loved one. This is just one reason why we support the VNA's mission to provide care to our community.
